Practitioner Coach Certificate – Life & Executive Coaching

(optional ILM Practitioner Coach Programme)

This is a great place to start your journey into the world of coaching, providing you with essential coaching theory, knowledge and practise. Not only is it a qualification in its own right, but it also fits seamlessly with the Diploma, thus reducing the time and cost if and when you decide to take the next step.

The Certificate course has been designed to accommodate people who require a shorter coach training programme that nevertheless delivers a robust level of content. There is absolutely no compromise on quality and you will participate in both theoretical study and practical experience.

This course is for you if:

- you are new to coaching and are eager to start learning
- for some reason you are unable to commit to the Practitioner Coach Diploma but still want a course that develops knowledge and skills you can use with family and at work

In addition to the modules you will see receive a CD of recorded teleclasses. The topics covered complement and expand on the study modules and provide valuable underpinning knowledge on which coaching skills are founded.

Individual Mentoring for Coaching Skills Development

You are given a CD with recordings of real life coaching sessions which are each followed by an evaluation. These are real examples including students undergoing Coach Mentoring and Final Assessments. Hear the mentor and assessors feedback on each session so that you learn good techniques to use and pitfalls to avoid. This enable you to really learn effectively through listening to others and hearing for yourself the effect their coaching has, and the beauty of the recordings is that you can listen to them over and over again until you feel confident to start practising yourself.

It will be a fabulous testament to your hard work and the exciting path along which you have travelled. All professional coaches take seriously their own learning and development and always recognise the value and importance of growth and the desire to be the best.

Noble Manhattan trains professional coaches to a very high standard and so helps to develop the tools to support their lifelong learning.
